'Acre of Art' Exhibition This Evening at GCHS Gym

Jewelry created from sterling silver, rosewood, ebony and brass by Granite City high school art students will be among several unusual exhibits displayed this evening at the fourth annual "Acre of Art" show. The affair, which is open to the public without cost, will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. at the GCHS Memorial gymnasium.

Between 6000 and 7000 individual art pieces contributed by kindergarten through 12th grade students will be included in the show, according to Eugene Alassi, GCHS art director, who is supervising the exhibition. He added that space for the enormous quantity of material has been found on the gymnasium walls, balcony, floor and panel partitions arranged throughout the building.

New exhibits to be featured in the show by advanced art students will include abstract statues fashioned of plaster and cardboard, which could be used as casting models to enhance architectural work, and "pointillism," a form of temper work, using sticks of wood.

Other displays will spotlight wax and wire sculpture, examples of welded art, papier-mache masks, and various ceramic objects. Sketches and paintings in pencil, pen and ink, crayon, pastels, water colors and oils, also will be included.

Sponsored by the Granite City PTA Area Council and the local school system's art instructors, the event has attracted nearly 1000 viewers at each of the last said, "that all of you will join with us in a rich, deep association with this area in which we are located. The need of a population-growing area is teaching."

For this reason, he pointed out, members of the university faculty are encouraged to locate in the area, which establishes a pattern of "the flowing back and forth, through the community, of knowledge and experience."

This area, Morris said, is lacking in cultural facilities, but if all will join in a cooperative program of development, "we can become a significant metropolitan area... however, we would be lacking in candor not to say that it has a long way to go."

Gov. Kemmer, in the address he had prepared for delivery at the dedication, called attention to the two principal varying concepts of university and college training today.

"As I see it, this controversy is between those holding that higher education should concern itself exclusively with the study of great ideas preferentially, languages in which they originated. Most of the adherents of this point of view believe further that this education should be restricted to the intellectual elite."

Diverse Opinions
"Opinion on the opposite side tends to be, somewhat diverse, but in general believes that the function of universities includes increasing and transmitting knowledge. They also believe that attention should be given to the application of knowledge, exploration of the conflicts of science, and consideration of how specific bodies of knowledge relate to the rest of society."

"The 'great ideas' concept of higher education, the governor said, "I think we must guard against too easy a dismissal of it as a futile attempt to preserve the cultural roots of our intellectual traditions at the expense of obtaining scientific knowledge."

"It is more than that. It is a genuine attempt to aid students in understanding the present by showing its relationship to history, the development of ideas and the past. Its final purpose is the development of intellectual leaders. These purposes are highly desirable and I would support them fully."

The governor added, "It is the means of accomplishing their goals that I think this school of thought is almost wholly wrong... wrong because they are based on a thoroughly inadequate understanding of present day society and how it functions. They show almost total unawareness of the magnitude of technological

Ascension Day Services Planned at Peace Lutheran

The public is invited to attend.

Meet on Bus Proposal

Conferring Thursday in Springfield with four representatives of the Older Adult Special Issues Council, Gov. Kemmer said he will meet this Missouri Gov. Hearnes late June and discuss an OASIS request for reduced bus rates for the elderly.

evolution. They seem to believe that "stability" is the prime characteristic of society when, in fact, the most significant characteristic is clearly its change."

Adds Two Factors
Outlining further concepts of higher education and outstanding viewpoints, the governor added that he would add two important factors.

One, that education is essential to the development of a democracy. Because a democracy cannot be the most highly educated, intelligent and objective citizenry.

Secondly, I would say that a college education should contribute to the personal welfare of the student. It is right and proper that colleges should be one of the institutions to aid youngsters from what used to be called the "lower classes" to move upward, to become acquainted with the customs and conditions of a middle class society, and to become a part of it.

The three-day dedication celebration began with the Friday morning program in the library building which also featured an opening concert by the Southern Illinois University Symphonic band, conducted by J.C. Dale Fjerstad, and presentations by the Southern Illinois University Concert Chorus directed by Leonard Van Camp.

Morris, as a preliminary to the address, presented a long list of acknowledgments to the individuals, groups and groups who contributed to the establishment of the SIU campus at Edwardsville.

College Leaders Attend
Among those present at the affair were three university leaders, David Andrews of Principia College, John R. Haynes, Monticello, and Dean Norman Bentley of the University of Illinois.

Morris introduced members of the Illinois General Assembly, including Lloyd "Curly" Harris, Leland J. Kennedy, Leo Oberneufman of St. Clair county, and others of surrounding districts.

Comp. Melvin Price, Democrat of East St. Louis, also was introduced, as were state officials including Gene Graves, director of the Department of Business and Economic Development; J. E. Wenzel of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics; Ross Randolph, director of the Department of Public Safety; Maude Meyers of the personnel department, and Harold O. Swank, of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

A barbecue luncheon was served to visitors outside the library building beginning at noon. The afternoon program included the opening of the spring festival with a tricycle race by students.

Tours of buildings were held throughout Friday afternoon.

An Activities Recognition program and Architectural Arts program were conducted during the evening, followed at 8 p.m. by the DKT Variety Show, and an orchestra concert.

Jaycee Members To Landscape Animal Shelter

As part of the current "Clean up, Paint up, Fix up" campaign and the Illinois beautification program, Granite City Jaycees announced today that members plan a landscaping and shrub planting enterprise, calculated to enhance the appearance of the Granite City humane shelter on Highway 3.

In conjunction with the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, which is spearheading the clean up drive, completion of the local beautification program is expected this weekend, James Burton, Jaycee president, said today. Heading the Jaycee project are Guy Cooper and Edward Gonia, co-chairmen of the local service organization's "Keep Illinois Beautiful" committee.

The improvement plan calls for landscaping the shelter entranceways, erecting a sign and enclosing with concrete blocks a section at the front of the building to hold essential shrubbery. Jaycees members intend to plant 16 spreading yews, three Hicks or Haffield yews and 14 Juniper bushes.

Top soil and peat moss will be added to the planting area to encourage growth and fill in the barren appearance immediately fronting the concrete block structure, the co-chairmen said. Two tons of gravel also will be distributed along the driveway and entrance to the building, the men reported, providing improved walking surfaces for shelter visitors.

SIU Board Seeks $110 Million For Capital Improvements

A capital appropriations budget of $110,540,800 for improvements at the three campuses of Southern Illinois University was approved by the SIU board of trustees Thursday on the Southwestern Campus.

The budget is subject to action by the Illinois Board of Higher Education which will make recommendations to the General Assembly and Gov. Kerner. Legislative action is expected in 1967.

Major items for the Southwestern Campus, totaling $41,700,000, include:

Communications building, stage two, $4,425,000; utilities, land development and campus improvements, $2 million; fine arts and humanities building, $6.9 million; education, classroom and office building, $6.7 million; physical education building, stage two, $1,650,000; utilities and site development, $1.8 million; business, classroom and office building, $6.7 million; and an international center for business and industry, $7.8 million.

Feasibility Study
A feasibility study is being made on the last project, and it found practical. It would not be constructed unless $4,150,000 of the funds could be obtained from non-state funds.

Items for the Carbondale campus, totaling $68.8 million, include:

Completion of Morris library, $2.2 million; humanities and social studies building, $7.7 million; land acquisition, $2 million; completion of communications building, stage one, $4.2 million; center for advanced study of the physical sciences, $5.5 million; general classroom and office building, $2.7 million.

Clinical and health center building, $4 million; natural resources building, $6,325,000; fine arts building, $4.4 million; student services building, $8.1 million; and utilities and site development, $1.5 million.

The budget also includes $2,750,000 for Southern Acres and $1 million for relocation of the Illinois Central Railroad which runs through the Carbondale campus.

The former project is a general office and classroom building for the vocational technical institute campus.

Revenue Bond

Of the total, the budget provides for $75,805,130 in revenue bonds issued by the Illinois Building Authority—$26,785,800 from state general revenue and $10,890,000 from federal assistance grants and from private sources.

Dr. Delyte Morris, SIU president, and John S. Rendleman, vice-president for business affairs, emphasized that the needs were based upon an anticipated enrollment of 37,000 students in 1968 and larger enrollments in the future. They estimated that enrollments will top 48,000 in 1970 and 54,000 in 1974.

Rendleman said that if all items are approved, phases of the work can start in the summer of 1967, but some of the major buildings would not be available for use until the fall of 1970 or 1971.

Sets Up Fund to Study World Hunger Problems
The Nestle Alimentant Co., S. A., of the world's largest food concerns, announced in Lausanne, Switzerland, early this week, the formation of the Nestle Foundation to improve the food situation in nations where malnutrition and hunger still exist.

The Nestle Co. has one of the larger plants in Granite City. The international firm, celebrating its 100th anniversary this year, set aside 20 million Swiss francs, or about $4,600,000, for advancing studies directly connected with food in the field of agriculture and animal production, chemistry and food technology, biology and physiology.

In helping to improve food production throughout the world's food problem areas, the Nestle Foundation anticipates the extension of scholarships granted to specially qualified persons for conducting studies in their own countries and abroad, prize awarded for work that contributes effectively to the fight against malnutrition; conferences to exchange views on matters pertaining to food production; publication of scientific and technical studies.

In 1960, the world-wide Nestle group sponsored a symposium on the subject of "Humanity and Subsistence" in which more than 100 internationally known scientists, economists and agronomists contributed papers and participated in discussions. As a result of the meetings, various views and means were exposed, or dealing effectively with the tragic problems of world hunger.

Bloodworth Works for Nothing!

It's true. Sometimes a home doesn't sell within a normal listing period. Almost 25 years of combined real estate appraisal and selling experience grinds to a halt. That's when we all take stock. We review, we advise, we try harder. But still, possibly it takes more time, another time. Fortunately though, our repeated thumping successes with residential real estate sales and development in the Tri-Cities, year after year, are proof positive that we aren't in the habit of working for nothing. In fact if your home is that much of a challenge and is hard to sell, we'll consider buying it! We know too well that nothing happens until a sale is made. The very next time you consider selling call a company that hates to work for nothing.

St. Elizabeth's Is Scene of Bugle-Boyle Nuptials

Low arrangements of pink and white flowers on the altar, together with pom poms and ferns, decorated the sanctuary of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Janis Laraine Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Boyle, and George F. Bugle, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bugle, all of Rural Route One.

The service was read by the Rev. Lawrence Mattingly at two o'clock, and a reception was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

The bride's gown of white silk organza over bridal satin featured a mandarin collar, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt draped at intervals with hand-made organza roses. A chapel train had a double bustle back and a triple rose organza head-piece held in place the bride's four-tiered ballerina-length veil of nylon illusion.

She carried a cascade of stephanotis, pink sweetheart roses and variegated ivy centered with a corsage.

Miss Marie Boyle the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and Betty Ann Eberhart, of Granite City, a cousin of the bridegroom, Jada Chapman of Peoria, Ill., Susan Young of Tulsa, Okla., and Kathryn Brandt of Overland, Mo., served as bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of shell pink silk chiffon. Floor-length, they had fitted bodices, portrait necklines and long detachable sleeves. The waistlines were moulded to reveal drape shaped skirts with fullness in the back set off by large bustle bows. Petal type hats of shell pink silk organza were attached to short veils and they carried cascades of pom poms and carnations in shades of pink with white.

A little flower girl, Kristy Krawich, the bride's cousin, wore a dress of white organza over bluish pink. It was long with an empire waist and puffed sleeves. She carried a basket of pink and white flowers. Robert Rhodes Jr., nephew of the bridegroom, carried the ring.

Robert Chapman was best man, and the list of groomsmen and ushers included Earl Meek, Paul Brandt, Leonard Riffin, Dennis Shackelford, Arthur Mass and Robert Rhodes.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Boyle chose a dress of aqua Italian silk and linen with accessories of the same color. Her flowers were pink orchids. The bridegroom's mother was in a three-piece costume of mauve worn with matching accessories. Her car was made up of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Music for the wedding was furnished by Phil Speers, organist.

After a honeymoon in Virginia, the couple will be at home in Edwardsville.

The former Miss Boyle was graduated from the Granite City high school and attended the University of Illinois. Mr. Bugle attended the Granite City schools and Southern Illinois University. He is employed as a draftsman by the American Steel Foundries.

Madison-Venice Boys Baseball Needs Umpires

A general shortage of umpires for boys baseball programs in the Quad-City area is affecting the Madison-Venice Khoury League this year, too, as plans for its inaugural are being formed.

Planning meetings are scheduled every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Madison memorial center, Seventh street and Lee avenue.

Managers also are needed for the league are: Atom 7-9, Bantam 9-11, Midjet 11-13 and Juvenile 13-15. The league also is interested in organizing a Junior division and invites high school-age players to contact Lewis.

Three locations will be used for the Monday through Friday 6 p.m. games this year. Two diamonds are located at Third street and Highland avenue, Madison, one of them lighted. Another pair of diamonds are at 12th street and Washington avenue, Madison. Three diamonds in Venice's Lee Park will be used by the league and one of them is equipped with lights.

Age bracket breakdowns for the league are: Atom 7-9, Bantam 9-11, Midjet 11-13 and Juvenile 13-15. The league also is interested in organizing a Junior division and invites high school-age players to contact Lewis.

Men wishing to work as umpires are being asked to contact John Onesky at TR 6-8837. While there are no age requirements for umpires, the league prefers them to be over 18 years of age.

Deadline for filing applications for teams in the league is May 27.

Prospective managers wishing to contact Judge Lewis to volunteer their services, or team managers wishing to submit rosters should call TR 7-1111 or address correspondence to Lewis at 1624 Fourth street, Madison.

Cahokia-Venice Team in 8-Club Girls' League

A Cahokia-Venice girls' softball team will be one of eight district diamond squads making up the Girls' Twilight Softball League this year.

The Cahokia-Venice team will play its home games at Lee Park in Venice. The manager is John Kallenbach of Cahokia.

Teams, managers and home diamonds of other clubs in the league are: Caseyville, Frank Kondoudis, VFW Post 1117, Lark Collinsville, Elmer Hazard, Fletcher's Field, Belleville, Wilfred Krechmer, South St. d e Park, East St. Louis, Benita Voudrie, Maryville Park, Wood River, Tony Zolner, J. C. Park.

The league started play May 5 and got in 12 games before rain washed out a trio of contests last week. Maryville notched its second victory Thursday night to tie the Wood River at 2-1. Cahokia-Venice and East St. Louis were each 1-1. Grafton had lost its only game and Collinsville and Belleville had each won twice.

All games are scheduled for 8:15, with the slate made up of contests on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

The girls play fast-pitch softball, differing from baseball only in that runners cannot take a lead off base. The teams, limited to 16 members each, use nine players on the field in seven-inning contests.

In former years, the league used regulation uniforms but this season the girls are wearing Bermuda shorts costumes with self-length stockings and rubber-cleated softball shoes.

THE MADISON COUNTY SPORTSMAN

By DON HASTINGS
County Conservation Officer

Fishing activity has picked up greatly and along with it some violations. There have been four recent arrests for not having a fishing license. Considering the amount of people fishing, this is not too bad.

Most violations are by people who go fishing on the spur of the moment and don't bother to stop and get a license. The regular or ardent fishermen never get caught without a license.

Sturgeon has been the big catch on the Mississippi and carp and catfish at the fee lakes.

We still haven't heard of much good bass fishing—just a few stragglers now and then. Some lake owners have called concerning the lack of catches but the reason is probably the weather and not winter kills, as some fear.

Fish are apparently spawning in southern Illinois but not in this area as yet. Bass and some other fish have the ability to hold eggs until such time that water temperatures are correct.

Frog season
Although it seems futile to mention it, the frog season does not open until June 15.

The tired old saying, "You can't wait until then or none will be left," has already been heard. Everyone who hunts expects this same excuse. Even many lake owners seem to agree and let their friends in early for the same reason.

At any rate, we will be starting night patrols and will appreciate a call if a violation is suspected. All we can do is watch public water and those private waters where owners have asked for our help.

Most illegal frogs come from private ponds and there is little that can be done if the owner does not complain.

Parents of Teenagers to Hear Guidelines Wednesday

A "Guide for Parents of Teenagers" that was three years in the development will be presented Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Venice grade school auditorium. Developed by the Catholic Family Life Bureau, it has been endorsed by the Springfield Council of Churches.

The guide will be presented locally as a community project for all parents in Venice. It has been endorsed by the Catholic priest, ministers of Protestant denominations, schools, PTA's, juvenile authorities, guidance counselors and many parents.

The guide is not a teenager code, but a "set of principles for united thinking and practical norms for united action by parents."

It points out that "this booklet is not a manual for raising children." However, it presents fundamentals of parent guidance, and treats the more glaring problems facing parents of teenagers. It offers parents "a set of principles upon which they agree and encourages them to act in solidarity with other parents on these specific problems."

Four Panelists

On the panel from Springfield, Ill., presenting the booklet, will be Rev. John J. McGrath, Di-cesan director of both the Catholic Family Life Bureau and the Catholic Youth Organization; Dr. John P. Marty, a gynecologist; and a married couple.

Subjects covered by the guide include fundamentals of parental guidance; "Why a Guide for Parents?" how to be a good parent; practical norms for specific teenage problems; principles for united thinking about recreation; and "Dating, Dress, Drinking, Driving and Smoking."

A question and answer period will follow the program.

Fr. McGrath urges attendance by all parents with children from the sixth grade through high school.

Quoting from the guide, he said: "The individual parent, with a guide like this in hand, can accomplish a great deal for his own family. Nevertheless, teenager standards of conduct are a community-wide problem and must be attacked as such. Little is accomplished if you and your family are willing to abide by this guide, only to be discouraged by others from so doing."

Booklets will be available at the meeting, which is being sponsored by St. Mark's Parents and Friends Association.

3 Meetings in Area on Housing SIU Students

The Housing Office at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is holding three meetings this week for area householders interested in housing students attending the southwestern campus.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Student Affairs Office at SIU's East St. Louis center, Ninth and Ohio streets. The following evening at 8 o'clock a similar meeting will be held at the Edwardsville public library. The third meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Student Affairs Office in Alton, 2809 College avenue.

In April 1965, the SIU board of trustees passed by unanimous vote a resolution that beginning Sept. 1, 1965, "single undergraduate students not residing with their parents or guardians will be permitted to reside only in those accommodations which have been and which continue to be classified by the administration as accepted living centers."

This week's meeting, explained William Burcky, coordinator of housing, are being held in order to help carry out the SIU board's resolutions. They cover such areas as safety, sanitation, health and recreation, supervision, and an environment conducive to good study conditions. Housing must be limited to university students and there can be no discrimination on race, religion or national origin, Burcky said.

There will be two slide presentations, illustrating steps involved in becoming an accepted living center, and showing several residences that have been accepted.

DeMolays will Hear Col. Strange Tuesday

The class is being named in honor of Barney W. Collins of Mexico, Imperial potentate of North America.

Col. Strange is commander of the Air Force ROTC and professor of Air Force Aerospace studies at the university.

Hairston is Delegate To Nat'l. NAACP Meet

Rugh Hairston, vice-president of the Madison-Venice chapter of the NAACP, and finance chairman of the state organization, was elected Sunday by the state executive board as a delegate to the National NAACP Convention in Los Angeles the week of July 4.

The Illinois NAACP will be represented at the convention by its president, Raymond E. Hart of Chicago, who automatically is a delegate, and Hairston. One delegate from the state-at-large is elected each year as a second delegate. Approximately 300 board members attended the meeting.

The regional meeting was attended by 100 persons representing various chapters. Hairston said general discussions were held concerning poverty programs, housing problems and educational matters.

Prizewinning Photos On Display at Bank

A collection of prize-winning photographs from the 27th National Newspaper Snapshot Contest is currently on exhibit in the lobby of the First Granite City National Bank.

The exhibit, comprising over 50 photographs of babies, children, scenic views, action pictures and human interest studies, is from competition involving over a quarter million entries to 78 newspapers in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

At least 21 letters are to be read, along with numerous reports, and the item likely for the debate is the city-state agreement on Federal Aid Route 151.

It was the major topic of the week's special meeting, when a number of council members indicated they would not approve the agreement if the state failed to provide an 800-foot frontage road and fencing.

State Highway District Engineer Robert Kronst told council members the state would not erect a fence and would build the frontage road only if the city provided the right-of-way. He said if the agreement was not signed, the state would "just mark time."

Mayor Partney is expected to name committees and make other appointments.

Science and the Quad-Cities

Science Developing All-Seeing Eyes

Marking can no longer keep hidden from all-seeing eyes of science, major U. S. scientific organizations inform the Press-Record. But the result in most cases is an improved chance for all to be "healthy, wealthy and wise," they contend.

As an example, the will have few secrets—radioactivity speaking from a Whole Body Counter just completed at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

The counter is capable of detecting and measuring minute amounts of radioactive materials within the human body, the American Institute of Biological Sciences reports.

It will be used at the university's medical center for improved patient care and research into disease. The studies are financed by grants from the Division of Biology and Medicine of the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Institutes of Health and the Alvin A. Gould Foundation of Cincinnati.

The AIBS also reports that scientists at the University of Wisconsin, in cooperation with another National Laboratory, Associated Midwest Industries, have begun a two-year experimental program to develop a possibly the world's most powerful electron microscope.

The scientists will build an experimental electron microscope, an electrostatic analyzer for controlling the energy of the beam and measuring its stability.

They hope to achieve a well-focused beam of high-energy electrons, about 100,000 volts. This information is considered vital to electron microscope design because the quality of the electron beam determines the quality of the magnified image.

The American Chemical Society reports that a murder has been established, a burglar convicted, and a suicide proved by another means of "evidence" involving a technique called neutron activation analysis, or NAA.

It works by bombarding evidence, such as traces of gunshot, or paint smears, with fast-moving neutrons. The response of each piece of evidence is a characteristic "fingerprint" that identifies it.

NAA is already replacing unreliable "paraffin" tests formerly used to determine whether a suspect fired a gun.

Cameras to Aid Farms

Farmers and foresters may soon have a radically different farm implement, the Press-Record has learned from the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The "implement" consists of cameras and other radio-sensing devices mounted in airplanes and satellites.

In an infrared photograph taken from 18,000 feet, Black Stem Rust, a disease that seriously damages wheat and corn, has been seen a spotted two weeks earlier than possible from the ground.

It should be possible to spot diseased trees in a forest quicker and cheaper by this method.

Find Forest Fire Front

Infrared scanning is already in use by the U. S. Forest Service in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin. It is being used by firefighters to pinpoint the actual fire front through huge, billowing clouds of smoke.

The new sensing devices are developed for use in U. S. military reconnaissance planes and satellites. Studies are now being conducted to determine if they should be de-classified.

A related report by the AASAS deals with forest fires. It is pointed out that an intensive effort is under way at the U. S. Department of Agriculture and elsewhere to attack the quality of the non-chemical methods that do not pollute the environment, as do some chemical pesticides.

Among the possible methods are bacteria and viruses, electromagnetic "death" rays, sound waves, infrared control and forces by man and machines that imitate insect love potent.

The Law Serves You

Strict Rules on Lawyers' Conduct

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

You may or may not have heard or heard a report that a lawyer has been charged with "unethical and unprofessional conduct" with reference to his law practice.

When one considers the many thousands of lawyers currently engaged in the practice of law in Illinois, the number of these occurrences is extremely small.

This adverse publicity is often the only thing that non-lawyers hear about the ethics of the legal profession, and then in a negative sense. People who abide by the rules of their profession or occupation usually do not make newsworthy stories.

Professional Canons

What many people do not realize is that strict rules of conduct are imposed upon attorneys by laws that are known as "Canons of Professional Ethics."

The Illinois State Bar Association has canons of ethics which its members must follow, and the Illinois Supreme Court has stated many times that lawyers may be subject to discipline for not observing these canons.

The codes of ethics are enforced and enforced largely by the lawyers themselves. Violation of them may lead to professional discipline such as disbarment or suspension from the practice of law.

Let us consider several of the more significant provisions of the Illinois State Bar Association so that the reader may appreciate the framework within which the lawyer is supposed to conduct his practice.

Influencing Decisions

A lawyer is not allowed to attempt to exert personal influence on a court.

He may not approach a judge outside of court for the purpose of obtaining the judge's views or influencing his opinions on matters before him in court.

Defense of Criminals

It is the right of the lawyer to undertake the defense of the accused so that innocent persons are not victims of suspicious circumstances, are not denied a proper defense.

If the lawyer refused to defend those he thought guilty, he would be acting as judge and jury before the trial.

Further, having agreed to defend the accused, the lawyer is bound to utilize by fair means all defenses which are available under the law.

On the other hand, the public prosecutor's primary concern is not to convict the guilty, but rather to see that justice is done. Consequently, he may be duty bound to aid the accused if he learns of facts or witnesses which establish his innocence.

Conflicting Interests

A lawyer may not represent two or more parties in the same matter if the interests of one party conflict with the interests of the other, unless he explains the situation to all parties involved and obtains their consent to continue in the matter as their attorney.

A lawyer may not represent a client in a matter which would require him to divulge or make use of information which was revealed to him in confidence by a former client.

Confidential Information

Probably no other sections of the Canons is of greater importance to the preservation of the dignity of the legal profession than that which requires a lawyer to guard scrupulously the confidential information in confidence by a former client.

Neither he nor his employees may disclose any information gained as a lawyer, even to close relatives, and even though the lawyer's employment has long since ended.

He may not be forced to testify in court as to confidential disclosures unless the client consents.

Filing Fees

Illinois lawyers are admonished by their Canons against charging more than their usual fee because the client is able to pay at a higher rate.

Nevertheless, the lawyer is expected to reduce his normal fee if the client cannot afford to pay it.

Fees are generally based on such considerations as time spent, the difficulty of the problem involved and the results obtained for the client.

Solicitation Forbidden

Lawyers are strictly forbidden to solicit professional employment in any way. For example, lawyers may not use circulars, advertisements, or runners in order to secure business.

Solicitation or so-called "ambulance chasing" is conduct which is reprehensible to the public and to the traditions and best interests of the legal professions.

Not only does it provide distrust and disrespect in the minds of the public, but it also leads to unsavory competition and consequences materially detrimental to the dignity and honor of the legal profession as a whole.

"The Law Serves You" is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

Colorful Clean-Up Campaign Can Lead to A More Attractive Area Throughout Year

The colorful and artistic trash containers painted by Granite City high school art students and the bright splashes of color along Broadway and other Venice streets set the Quad-Cities apart from the thousands of communities conducting less extensive "clean up, paint up, fix up" campaigns this spring.

These and other phases of the current drive reflect the intensity of local residents' civic pride and their sincere desire for residential and commercial areas whose neatness and attractiveness are obvious to all.

This kind of interest and imagination, and the willingness to transform thought into action, can combine to improve the appearance of the Quad-Cities throughout the year. The drive should be of great value to each of us directly affected by the image we jointly create.

More people are run down by gossip than by autos.

Quad-Cityans Participating in Historic Protestant Church Merger Preparations

Through one-day exchanges of pastors and lay leaders yesterday and today, Quad-City church members are playing a direct part in history-making contacts which may lead to emergence of the largest single Protestant organization in the world during the next century.

Eight denominations represented at a four-day "consultation on church union" this month have already hurdled the hardest part of such a merger—unanimous approval of a 15,000-word document expressing a consensus on doctrine, worship, sacraments and ministry.

Next May, they will discuss how the new church will be organized and governed, including decisions on the division of authority between bishops, councils and congregations. This could prove controversial, but "we do not appear to be as difficult as the doctrinal agreement already achieved. The problem of denominational identity also has been solved with a phase plan extending into the next century."

Whether all of the participating groups ratify the final constitution will depend on the views of individual church members, including Quad-City parishioners. But it is significant to note that the number in interested faiths has grown to 10. Detailed talks have progressed, rather than decreasing. Apparently the Presbyterian, Christian, United Church, Methodist, Evangelical and Episcopal denominations have many more beliefs that unite them than divide them.

If necessity is really the mother of invention, how do so many unnecessary things get invented?

Favorable Council Action Needed Now To Avoid Long Riverfront Road Delay

Granite City aldermen have an opportunity to strike a major blow for highway and traffic progress by giving early approval to the Federal Aid Route 151 plan submitted for city approval by the Illinois Division of Highways.

The council acts promptly and affirmatively, it can take advantage of the state's offer to extend grading for the new riverfront road southward for 3.8 miles this year. This is essential, for visible evidence that the highway will become a reality is the only way that local port area shipping, warehousing and industrial development can be expedited.

Extreme competition for dwindling state highway funds is well known. The fact that Gov. Kerner and his highway staff are willing to proceed with the grading in 1966, as well as with construction of a railroad overpass behind the A. O. Smith plant and purchase of another 1.13 miles of right-of-way, is a significant step forward. Only by such progress this year can paving to Niedringhaus avenue be obtained next year.

The opportunity must not be lost, for the Route 151 construction already has been delayed enough to create serious problems for the community and region. Further delay—and delay originating locally—is unthinkable. Yet that would be the effect of city council inaction.

Fencing, frontage lanes and property financial settlements are matters that can be pursued separately, after the state is authorized to proceed with the basic highway plan. Aldermen trying to use delay in signing the project agreement as a weapon would merely be using it against themselves and local citizens. The state can find plenty of other places to spend highway money, and will do so if blocked here.

Absence of through traffic in neighborhoods close to the highway route could be advantageous, and no blocks are to be cut off from access to other Granite City streets. The number of direct Route 151 link offers by the state, West 20th street and Niedringhaus avenue—is actually more than many local residents had felt could be obtained.

Few issues could be of more importance to the future of the Quad-Cities. Factionalism on the council must not be allowed to cloud a clear-cut issue and damage all eight wards, including the Fifth. Every citizen of the community has much to gain from construction of the riverfront road, and delay at this crucial time could be disastrous.

Free Job Wanted Ads for Students

Again this year the Press-Record is happy to provide free "job wanted ads" for Quad-City high school and college students (16 years of age and over). The first such advertisements are being published today, and the special service will continue through May 26.

Many need vacation employment to aid in continuing their schooling, and many businesses and homes have openings. The service is classified ads have proven effective in past years in pairing up those who need help and those who need jobs.

Don't Miss Auto Safety Inspections

Some contend that the "nut behind the wheel" is the chief cause of traffic accidents, but there is no doubt that the condition of vehicle also plays a big role in motorizing safety, or lack of safety.

This being the case, Quad-Cityans would find it worth their time to have their autos inspected free of charge at any of the 35 local service stations. The inspection is scheduled for Saturday, May 21. The ten-point safety check often pinpoints unsuspected mechanical defects that could lead to injury and property damage if not remedied.

50 YEARS AGO

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

MAY 16, 1916

The annual commencement exercises and program of the graduating class of Washington school will be held at the school today. The program is divided into two parts, the first being a musical program, and the second part a general class play.

Those taking part in the play are Velma Edlemann, Wenzel Hendricks, Irene Wacker, Fredrick Plehank, Frieda Westphal, Floyd Nierper, Irwin Carden, Elsie Huxel, Viola Duenning, Vivian Vail, Margaret Gentry, Beulah Neal, Mildred Edwards, Harry Anderson and Mildred Lavinka Gashave and Mildred Meyer.

John R. Kelahan and William P. Johnson returned from LaSalle, Ill., where they went as delegates of the Tri-Cities Council Knights of Columbus to the annual convention. Kelahan was elected state ward.

A rain, hail and wind storm, which disappeared as quickly as it came, struck Granite City late Saturday afternoon, causing damage. The storm struck the city entirely unexpectedly. A heavy rain was accompanied for about two minutes by hail, which fell with a resounding rattle upon paved streets and against windows.

Some of the hallstones were of considerable size. The Mathews Home on E street was struck by lightning during the storm and was slightly damaged.

Members of the eighth grade graduating class and teachers of Washington school enjoyed an outing. Mr. Handford took the party on a hayride to Chouteau Slough, where the day was spent hunting and fishing. Miss Smith was the champion fisherman of the day.

Good things to eat were there for the occasion. The only complaint of the day was that the sun changed the complexion of some of the teachers and students. A unanimous vote was cast that another outing should be given.

25 YEARS AGO

MAY 15, 1941

The girls from YMCA adult gym classes ended their spring session with a winner's race at Monks' Mound. They met at the "Y" and rode out to the mound in a truck filled with hay.

After the race, the group sang songs. Upon returning, they held a splash party in the "Y" swimming pool.

Those who attended were Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. F. W. Kottmeier, Mrs. Viola Campbell, Mrs. Blaise, Mrs. Stuebe, Mrs. Lily Mae Friedman and children.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Strunk of Cleveland blvd. were hosts to their evening card club at a dinner party in their home. After the meal, the guests spent the evening at pinocle and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Schill, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barney were the couples winning.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brenton and children, Nancy, Jane and Mary, of Winnetka, Ind., were guests at the home of Mrs. Lula Johnson and her son, Harry Johnson, of Mitchell.

The North Venice Community Center, formerly known as the North Venice Social Club, met Monday evening with Theodore Baxter presiding. The regular routine of business was followed, and reports from committees.

Hospital Service Outstanding

Everybody is always complaining about hospital service and salaries. Well, I want, for a change, to commend everyone on the second floor and third floor at St. Elizabeth Hospital, for the excellent service and good nature of the staff in charge to the housekeepers, for treating me as if I was a "V.I.P."

I have always treated me with great respect even when I was in bed in spirit and I was irritable. They always went about their duties with a smile, even though they had to pay my salaries.

I was on the third floor for one month and on the second floor for five months. Without their service and good nature, I don't believe I would have been able to stand it there.

I feel that I have made some friends that I shall remember the rest of my life.

ALL SHOULD PRAY FOR SOLDIERS IN VIETNAM

To the Editor:

Publications have reprinted an authentic letter from a Christian boy in Vietnam who was killed instantly by a rifle shot just after he had pulled a wounded comrade to safety. He wrote the letter just before his death, to his parents in North Carolina.

The letter said he expected to be killed and that he felt it was "part of my job" because he wanted his country to remain free. "I want it to stand as a light to all people oppressed and guide them to the same freedom we know," he related.

I earnestly beseech every minister, teacher and Christian who knows how to pray in Jesus

BACK AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE

To the Editor:

As the days go by, election time draws closer, there are many good men running for various offices.

Some are being backed by what's called a political machine. Then we have the losers, the man running on his own record. Which makes the best candidate. This is a good question. We all hope for the best, but it can only be assured by the vote.

You, the voter, may be asked to vote for a certain person, maybe you don't know him. Someone else may know him, and you ask them with hope that they will tell you right.

You also have the person who runs for office by visiting various homes and buying drinks, trying to get your vote. You may say "He's a swell guy." He gets elected, but he is the right man. Will he do your community justice?

You also notice that "some" spend a great deal of money to get elected. What is the salary for the term of office? Compare these and you may wonder why a person wants the job.

The political machine has a lot of power. Most of it comes from men who have held office for a number of years. Most of the time the machine's men get elected; but they don't always back the right man for the community, in my opinion. Most of the time the machine's men are good men. Give them some thought when you cast your vote. What everyone can be is a good political machine; as the man running on his own rec-

SECURITIES "BLUE SKY" LAWS ARE EXPLAINED

Q. I phoned a broker and asked for information on a certain stock. He told me it was a "blue sky" issue. What does that mean?

A. State "blue sky" laws are simply laws requiring that a company file a statement and registration with the state's securities commission, giving facts about it. Until this is done, brokers in that state may not be allowed to supply information on it unless the investor signs a statement that he is aware the firm is not registered in the state.

I want to caution you that registration with the state has absolutely nothing to do with the quality of the stock. The fact that it is registered should not be used in judging whether or not to buy it.

A corporation gets into trouble when it is not registered.

He can win if we give him our vote and support. Talk to Frank someone, when you do you will feel as if you have known him a long time.

Mayor Urges Participation In Free Auto Inspections

Mayor Partney issued an appeal today for local auto owners to help promote safe traffic conditions in the Quad-City area by taking advantage of the free auto safety inspection being offered this week.

The free inspection of autos are being provided by service station operators, members of the Gasoline Dealers Association of the Tri-Cities, who are co-sponsors of the program with the Quad-Cities Safety Council.

"We need to look at the social and economic results of traffic accidents—the seriousness of the problem and who is hurt by the accidents, the cost in money and the time lost off jobs," the mayor said.

"What can we estimate is the price of human misery of injury and death? Quad-Cityans should be informed of the means of preventing accidents.

"Quad-Cityans should be advised and aroused concerning what is being done; and even more important, what is not being done to prevent accidents," the mayor stated.

Children Benefit From Discipline
No matter how involved parents get with the physical chores of child rearing, disciplining the young child heads the list of important parental tasks.

"Discipline is no 'one-shot deal.' It takes time and persistence, and sometimes an exasperating number of repetitions before results begin to show.

In our society, which is based largely on trust, people need to have some way to predict human behavior. Discipline helps to assure such predictability. In a democracy, each individual is essentially his own policeman. Hence individuals must be taught to do the right thing because they believe it's right.

For parents, discipline holds a place of practical importance. It brings an order that allows them to look after every family member's needs, including their own. The child who knows discipline knows contentment. He is not frustrated nor upset. He knows what is right and what is wrong. He knows what is expected and what is not approved. Hence he does not flounder around with indecision.

Discipline helps a child learn to think less about his own wants and desires and more about other people's needs.

Before you pay the "earnest money" be sure it's a Medallion Home

Before you build or buy, look for this familiar Medallion Home symbol that assures you and your family of the high-standards of living for which the wonderful world of electricity is famous.

Illinois Power certifies that every Medallion Home has been checked for adequate wiring, heavy-duty circuits, special purpose circuits, general purpose circuits, outlets, light wherever needed, and at least four major electric appliances, including an electric range.

Many builders find it pays to identify Medallion Homes in their newspaper advertising. Look for the symbol there—and wherever you visit new home developments. It'll pay for you, too.

Seek Ruling on State, County Liquor Laws

The liquor license committee of the Madison county board Friday postponed until 9:30 a.m. June 9 a "show cause" hearing on possible revocation of the license of Club Flame near Edwardsville. It was reset at the request of State's Attorney Joseph Bartlyak, who said he is asking Illinois Attorney General William Clark to give a ruling.

The ruling sought is whether the state permitting revocation without a criminal conviction takes precedence over a 1961 Madison county liquor law amendment calling for two convictions of a licensee before there can be a revocation.

Jury Finds GC Man in Burglary Case Innocent

A verdict of innocent was returned Friday afternoon in the civil court at Edwardsville in the burglary trial of Charles Hovland, 22, of 1200 Rhodes street. He was charged with burglary at the Arnette Pattern Shop in Granite City about last July. A broken safe and a metal safe taken from the shop, containing his fingerprints, were introduced, but it was noted that the state failed to prove that he was implicated in the break-in.

Trial may be held this time for Billy Joe Castile and William Howard Hayes, both 23, both of Granite City, charged with aggravated battery. They were scheduled for last week.

Auto Windshield Broken

Charles Sturdivant, 2222 Adams street, reported Thursday that the windshield of his 1960 auto had been broken by vandals.
